10M AIR RIFLE WOMEN

TOP FAVORITE

YI Siling (CHN)

Just as in London four years ago, the 10m Air Rifle Women event will present the first Gold medal of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, following a long lasting tradition which was also upheld in London, where the People's Republic of China's YI SILING (27) received the first Gold medal of the Games.

Despite not having officially announced their Olympic selection yet, the Chinese national team will probably be headlined by Yi herself, current number 3 in the World Ranking in this event and holder of the Finals World Record with 211.0 points. The Chinese athlete has 5 World Cup Gold medals and 2 World Cup Final trophies she has earned in the current Olympic cycle, having accrued them throughout 15 starts, and entering the final phase 13 times. Two of those final participations occurred during the 2016 ISSF World Cup Series: in Bangkok (THA), where she finished at the top the podium, and in Rio de Janeiro (BRA), where she placed 6th.

A tangible threat to Yi's ambitions will come in the shape of Serbia's ANDREA ARSOVIC (27), current World Ranking leader and winner of the World Cup Gold in the 10m Air Rifle Women event in Munich (GER) last June.

Arsovic is going to lead a group of contenders which will probably include Yi's teammate SHI MENGYAO (18), who made her international debut this year, Austria's rising star OLIVIA HOFMANN (23), ranked 7th in the world, and Iran's NAJMEH KHEDMATI, (20), who obtained the Olympic quota place at last year's World Cup stage in Gabala (AZE).

10M AIR PISTOL MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Felipe Almeida Wu (BRA), Jin Jongoh (KOR)

According to the added results of the last four years, The Republic of Korea's JIN JONGOH (36) would be the uncontested favorite of the 10m Air Pistol Men event, as he obtained 6 Gold medals out of 10 finals participations in World Cups, World Cup Finals and World Championships.

At the moment, however, Jin doesn't stand at the top of the World Ranking in this event, as the 1st place belongs to Brazil's FELIPE ALMEIDA WU (24), who earned two 1st places during the 2016 World Cup Series: in Bangkok (THA) and in Baku (AZE). Not to mention that he will fight for the Olympic Gold on his home turf, with the support of a whole country behind him.

Still, Jin Jongoh is the reigning Olympic and World Champion in this event, and he also holds both the World Record as well as the Finals World Record. A résumé that places him head-to-head with Wu on the road to the Olympic champion title.

Two-time Olympian OLEH OMELCHUK (33) of Ukraine is also on the shortlist for the 10m Air Pistol Men title in Rio, alongside Spain's PABLO CARRERA (29) with 2 victories in this event in the current Olympic cycle, and Vietnam's HOANG XUAN VINH (41), whose stats follow a similar path as the triumphs in Carrera's career: 12 starts, 6 final matches, 4 podiums and 2 Gold medals.

10M AIR PISTOL WOMEN

TOP FAVORITE

Zorana Arunovic (SRB)

The 10m Air Pistol Women competition is among the most uncertain events of the Olympic Shooting program for Rio 2016, and its perfectly suited for an unexpected finale.

Serbian athlete ZORANA ARUNOVIC (29), in fact, has been the most successful shooter in this event during the Olympic cycle with 3 Gold medals and 9 finals participations, but she currently sits in 20th position of the World Ranking as she missed the Air Pistol finals at each of her three World Cup participations, placing 10th or below.

Bulgaria's ANTOANETA BONEVA (30) also earned 3 Gold medals during the last four years, winning, in addition, the Silver at the Olympic test event in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and obtaining a total of 5 medals in the current Olympic cycle. However, she only ranks 9th in the world at the moment, since her last Gold medal dates back to May 2015 in Munich (GER).

On the other hand, the Ukraine's OLENA KOSTEVYCH (31) is surely going through a great period, as she obtained 2 of the last 3 World Cup Gold medals in dispute, also jumping the the top of World Ranking – a spot where she can keep an eye-liner current Air Pistol Olympic Champion, People's Republic of China's GUO WENJUN, 32, who started 14 times in this event during the last four years, entering the finals 10 times and winning 2 Golds.

TOP FAVORITE

Ray Bassil (LIB)

Four years after shaking the Shooting Sport world, Italy's reigning Olympic Champion JESSICA ROSSI (24) doesn't seem to be among the top favorites for the Trap Women Gold medal in Rio.

This burden, in fact, seems more likely to be on RAY BASSIL's shoulders, since the Lebanese is currently sitting at the top of the World Ranking after placing three-times on the podium during this year's ISSF World Cup Series.

Bassil (27), whose first career Gold medal arrived in Nicosia (CYP) last March, is surely going to face a group of resolute shooters in Rio, where Rossi won't give her title up so easily, and where Finland's SATU MAKELANUMMELA (45) will try to reach for another prize-winning performance after the 20 starts she's accumulated since 2013, with 6 semi-finals participations and 3 Gold medals.

An attempt to earn the Olympic Gold medal will also be the goal of the reigning ISSF World Champion, Spain's FATIMA GALVEZ (29) ranked 6th in the world, and of San Marino's ALESSANDRA PERILLI (28) winner of the World Cup Final trophy in 2015 and three-times Trap Women medalist during the last four years.

10M AIR RIFLE MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Yang Haoran (CHN)

Despite not having officially declared what athlete will compete in which event at the 2016 Olympic Games, in the 10m Air Rifle Men event, the People's Republic of China will surely be represented by YANG HAORAN (20), 2014 Youth Olympic Champion in this very event.

In 14 participations between World Cups, World Cup Finals and the 2014 World Championship in Granada (ESP), Yang always entered the final phase of the event, collecting the impressive amount of 7 Gold medals throughout 10 total podiums.

Actually, during the current season, Yang only earned the Gold at the first World Cup stage in Bangkok (THA), placing 5th in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and 7th in Munich (GER), however, these facts are not enough to not exclude him from the list of possible Gold winners in the 10m Air Rifle Men event at the Olympics.

Another strong candidate for the podium is Hungarian veteran shooter PETER SIDI (37), who matched Yang's 14 finals participation in the last four years, obtaining 6 total medals.

Alongside him, Yang's probable teammate in Rio will be CAO YIFEI (28), current leader of the World Ranking and three-time Silver medalist during the 2016 ISSF World Cup Series.

TRAP MEN

Erik Varga (SVK)

At the London 2012 Olympic Games, the Trap Men event delivered its Gold medal at the end of a thrilling shoot-off between Italy's MASSIMO FABBRIZI (38) and Croatia's GIOVANNI CERNOGORAZ (33), who eventually ended up on the highest step of the podium and will defend his title in Rio.

On August 8th, it is logical to expect nothing less, as many shooters are eligible for the Olympic Gold medal according to the latest results.

Slovakia's Reigning ISSF World Champion, ERIK VARGA (40), accumulated 13 starts in this event since 2013, reaching the semifinals 8 times and winning 4 Golds among 6 total medals. Furthermore, 2 of those Golds arrived back-to-back, at the ISSF World Championship in 2014, then the 2015 in Granada

(ESP) and finally in Lonato (ITA). During the 2016 ISSF World Cup Series, however, Spain's ALBERTO FERNANDEZ (33) strongly entered in the debate for the Olympic title, obtaining consecutive Gold medals in Nicosia (CYP) and Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and rocketing to the top of the ranking.

Despite the lack of podiums during this year's World Cup, both Italy's GIOVANNI PELLIELO (46) and Czech Republic's DAVID KOSTELECKY (41) will be among the dark horses of the Trap Men event, mostly thanks to their experience. Rio 2016, in fact, will mark Pelliello's 7th and Kostelecky's 5th Olympic participation.

TOP FAVORITE

Zhang Jingjing (CHN)

Since 2013, Chinese Pistol athlete ZHANG JINGJING (27) has literally ruled over the 25m Pistol Women event, collecting a total of 15 medals out of 17 starts among World Cups, World Cup Finals and the 2014 ISSF World Championship, with 7 of them being Gold.

Despite not having yet received the official phone call from her National Team, Zhang should feel pretty confident about it, as she finished in 1st place twice during this year's World Cup, which automatically will place her as number 1 in the World Ranking while entering the Olympic Shooting Range this year.

Rio 2016 will mark the Olympic debut for Zhang, while a far more experienced athlete will try to give her a hard time: Mongolia's GUNDEGMAA OTRYAD (38) will participate in her 6th edition of the Olympic Games, trying to best the Silver medal she pocketed in 2008 in Beijing (CHN).

Otryad will land in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) as the number 9 in the World Ranking, bringing with her the 3 Gold medals she secured in the 25m Pistol Women event since 2013.

Current Olympic Champion KIM JANGMI (23) from the Republic of Korea, and the Ukraine's OLENA KOSTEVYCH (31), London 2012 Bronze medalist in this event, will also be among the contenders for the Gold medal.

TOP FAVORITE

Jin Jongoh (KOR)

The 50m Pistol Men event at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games is expected to be a pretty balanced clash between a consistent number of shooters.

Indeed, during the Olympic cycle between 2013 and 2016, the 20 matches held between the World Cup Series, World Cup Finals and World Championships, witnessed 12 different athletes reach the top of the podium, with the Republic of Korea's JIN JONGOH (36), current leader of the World Ranking, participating in 11 finals out of 11 starts and finishing 8 times on the podium.

The Korean athlete is also the current holder of the World Record in this event, having established it at the 2014 ISSF World Championship in Granada (ESP), where he obtained the World title. In Rio, Jin will fight for his 3rd consecutive Olympic Gold in this event, and he will face rivals such as Japan's TOMOYUKI MATSUDA (40), who has 20 starts in the last four years with 13 final matches and 7 podiums, as well as the People's Republic of China's WANG ZHIWEI (28), four-time Gold medalist in the 50m Pistol Men event since 2013.

DOUBLE TRAP MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Vasily Mosin (RUS)

When Great Britain's Peter Robert Russell Wilson retired from competitive Shooting in 2014, he left a vacancy on the Olympic throne of the Double Trap Men, the event he ruled over at the London 2012 Olympic Games.

A title that is up for grabs among a large number of athletes, the leader of which is Russia's VASILY MOSIN (44), who accumulated 19 starts in the last four years, with 2 victories in the ISSF World Cup, 1 World Cup Final title and 1 ISSF World Championship Gold medal obtained in Lonato (ITA) last year.

The 2016 ISSF World Cup, however, highlighted some other relevant contenders such as Australia's JAMES WILLETT (20). Willett only started shooting Double Trap two years ago, but his talent has allowed him to enter the semifinals 5 out of 8 times, collecting 1 Gold and 1 Bronze. The United States' JOSHUA RICHMOND (30) also is a candidate for an Olympic Gold, placing 1st at the San Marino (SMR) World Cup stage and raising his medal count during the Olympic cycle to 4 while also entering the list of top 10 in the World Ranking alongside his teammate WALTON ELLER (34).

Snjezana Pejcic (CRO)

Among the 15 Olympic Shooting events which will take place at the Olympic Shooting Range of Rio de Janeiro (BRA), the 50m Rifle 3 Positions Women event is undoubtedly one of the clear favorites.

During the 2016 ISSF World Cup Series, in fact, Croatia's SNJEZANA PEJCIC (34) obtained 3 out of 4 Gold medals, climbing to the highest step of the podium in Rio de Janeiro, Munich (GER) and Baku (AZE), as well as placing 2nd in the opening stage of the season, in Bangkok (THA).

Furthermore, at the Olympic test event held in Rio last April, Pejcic set a new World Record with 594 qualification points, strengthening her position at the top of the World Ranking. During the current Olympic season, the Croatian Rifle shooter -Bronze medalist in the 10m Air Rifle Women event in Beijing 2008- started in 15 matches, reaching the final stage 12 times and earning 10 total medals, divided into 5 Golds, 3 Silvers and 2 Bronzes.

The group of athletes who will try to dethrone Snjezana Pejcic include Italy's rising star PETRA ZUBLASING (27), Gold medal in this event at the 2015 European Games, and Germany's BARBARA ENGLEDER (33), currently ranked 5th in the world.

TOP FAVORITE

Henri Junghaenel (GER), Torben Grimmel (DEN)

With none of the three 2012 Olympic medalists attending Rio 2016, the 50m Rifle Prone Men event is about to crown a new Olympic Champion who is probably going to emerge from an elite group of athletes.

Current World Record holder, Germany's HENRI JUNGHAENEL (28), is undoubtedly part of this group after competing in 15 final stages out of 18 starts in the last four years and obtaining 4 Golds, 1 Silver and 3 Bronzes.

During this year's Olympic test event in Rio de Janeiro (BRA), Junghaenel preceded another viable candidate for a podium position: WARREN POTENT (54). In this event, indeed, the Australian shooter from Currans Hill is currently placed 3rd in the World Ranking and won the Gold medal at the 2014 ISSF World Championship in Granada (ESP).

In addition to the German and the Australian, Denmark's TORBEN GRIMMEL (40), winner of 3 of the 4 Rifle Prone Gold medals up for grabs at this year's World Cup, will surely enter the Olympic Shooting Range in top shape, empowered by his leading position in the World Ranking for this event and by the experience he has gained throughout his four previous Olympic participations.

SKEET WOMEN

Kimberly Rhode (USA)

There are two flags that have literally waved over every Skeet Women podium since 2013: the Italian and the American one, and it is safe to assume that they will also wave on August 12th, when this event's Olympic Gold medal will be delivered in Rio de Janeiro (BRA).

Both national teams will travel to Brazil with their champions in tow, such as the USA's KIMBERLY RHODE (37), who will team-up with 2015 ISSF World Champion MORGAN CRAFT (23), while Italy will be represented by DIANA BACOSI (35) and by 2008 Olympic Gold medalist CHIARA CAINERO (38).

In both teams, a far more experienced shooter will join a total debutant, as Rhode and Cainero will respectively be attending their 6th and 4th Olympics, while Craft and Bacosi will make their first appearances at the Olympics.

Among these four excellent shooters, Rhode is whom probably deserves to have the higher odds, as she has won more Gold medals than any other athlete in the Olympic cycle, also having to defend the Skeet Women Olympic title she obtained four years ago.

However, despite the undeniable superiority of the two national teams, it is Thailand's SUTIYA JIEWCHALOEMMIT (30), who currently leads the World Ranking, and has obtained the World Cup Gold medal twice in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and in San Marino (SMR). In Rio, then, Jiewchaloemmit will become the wild, unexpected variable in the duel between the United States and Italy.

25M RAPID FIRE PISTOL MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Christian Reitz (GER)

In the 25m Rapid Fire Pistol Men event, two debutant Olympians will try to undermine the golden ambitions of Germany's CHRISTIAN REITZ (29), number 2 in the World Ranking and main favorite for the Olympic title.

France's JEAN QUIQUAMPOIX (20) and the People's Republic of China ZHANG FUSHENG (22), indeed, are the most plausible rivals of the German athlete, as they obtained two Gold medals each in this event during the current Olympic cycle, placing 2 more times on the podium and both breaking into the Top 3 of the World Ranking.

On the other hand, Reitz qualified for the final phase of this event 15 out of 17 times since 2013, achieving 11 total medals and winning 5 Gold medals, including one at the latest ISSF World Cup stage in Baku (AZE), where Zhang placed 2nd.

Another contender for the Olympic title is Russia's ALEXEI KLIMOV (40), who equaled the Finals World Record during the test event in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and is currently ranked 6th in the world.

SKEET MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Vincent Hancock (USA)

How can you dethrone a two-time Olympic Gold medalist? That's probably what VINCENT HANCOCK's rivals have asked themselves multiple times lately, since the USA's three-times World Champion is, without a doubt, the man to beat in the Skeet Men event.

Despite not reaching the top of the podium during this year's ISSF World Cup, Hancock (27) is still quite confident, thanks to the 6 podiums he climbed out of 9 semifinal participations throughout the last 4 years.

The Port Charlotte native, who dropped from 1st to 2nd place in the World Ranking, is going to face the same opponents he often meets at the World Cup shooting ranges:

Denmark's JESPER HANSEN (35), 10 semi-finals out of 18 starts since 2013, or Italy's young GABRIELE ROSSETTI (21) who defeated Hancock at last year's ISSF World Cup Final in Nicosia (CYP).

Furthermore, during this year's competitions two Swedish Skeet shooters, MARCUS SVENSSON (26) and STEFAN NILSSON (25), landed in the top positions of the World Ranking thanks to the World Cup Gold medals they respectively obtained in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) and San Marino (SMR).

50M RIFLE 3 POSITIONS MEN

TOP FAVORITE

Matthew Emmons (USA)

The 50m Rifle 3 Positions Men event in Rio de Janeiro (BRA) is going to feature the one undisputed favorite of the United States, Matthew Emmons (35), current leader of the World Ranking and Gold medalist of two of this year's World Cup stages in Bangkok (THA) and Munich (GER).

Emmons, who placed 3rd in this event at the 2012 Olympic Games, will achieve his third Olympic participation after representing the USA at Athens 2004 and Beijing 2008. Oddly enough, Emmons won an Olympic medal in both of those previous competitions, a Gold in Athens (GRE) and a Silver in Beijing (CHN), but the two of them arrived through a different event: the 50m Rifle Prone Men.

Reigning Olympic Champion NICCOLÒ CAMPRIANI (28) of Italy will also participate in this event in Rio, empowered by the 3 Gold medals he obtained at his 3 finals participations throughout the last four years.

Last but not least, during the Olympic cycle, numerous Chinese athletes have distinguished themselves in this event, but it is safe to assume that HUI ZICHENG (27) and ZHU QINAN (31), currently ranked 3rd and 5th in the world, will represent the People's Republic of China in the 3 Positions event in Rio.
